FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Illumia Announces SHRM Professional Development Credits

Chicago, IL – Illumia announced today an enhancement to current service lines by offering SHRM professional development credits to their existing and future clients.

Our Managing Partner, Sanel Kostic, said: “At Illumia, we believe that education has the power to change the world. We also know that learning and growth is a commitment of time and resources. This is why we now offer SHRM credential-holders the opportunity to earn professional development credits from the Society for Human Resource Management.”

Clients qualify for professional development credits through our offerings for Everything DiSC®, The Five Behaviors™, and PXT Select™. This means they earn credits toward recertification while completing Wiley training, thus balancing time and cost elements associated with maintaining the SHRM credential.

Illumia is proud to announce the SHRM credential enhancement and we look forward to offering this important value add to existing and future clients.
