Illumia Unveils Board Effectiveness Practice

Chicago, IL – Illumia Consulting Group today announced the launch of its Board Effectiveness practice focused on enabling structural and behavioral elements of high functioning boards.

Illumia’s Managing Partner, Sanel Kostic, said: “This milestone significantly elevates Illumia’s profile in the people advisory space. It presents an opportunity to enable positive change across an important constituency during a critical time”, said Sanel Kostic, Managing Partner at Illumia. “We know that high functioning boards are an important enabler of broader organizational effectiveness. Decisions made at this level tend to be strategic in nature and heavily influence an organization’s trajectory. This is why it is imperative to proactively enhance board effectiveness through structural and behavioral mechanisms that serve the long term interests of the organization.”

Illumia’s Board Effectiveness offering is anchored in the notion that high functioning boards are an important enabler of long term organizational performance. Our service line employs research backed assessments, leading practices, and structured methods that objectively and proactively enhance board performance while balancing immediate needs with long term value creation.
